Because such a sending song has a place in many Christian traditions, several versions of both this text (based on Isaiah 6:8) and tune can be found throughout South Africa. When desired, additional English stanzas can be improvised in alternation with the original Zulu text.

One: Come together, everyone and bring your stories

All: and share our songs and share in the Spirit.

All: Let our thoughts fill the air and come to life in bodies of sound ringing out like a song that sets the whole world dancing.

One: And let even the silence speak with a thousand voices in tribute to our loving, living God

All: and in celebration of our lives – the priceless gift God has given us.

dead, and buried; he descended into hell; the third day he rose again from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father in the Holy Ghost; the holy catholic church; the communion of saints; the

THE PRESBYTERY OF DENVER, YOUR CHURCH AND MISSION--Every church has a mission. In fact, each congregation can have many commitments to serve for Christ in the world. In many ways those belong uniquely to that congregation. The Presbytery of Denver celebrates the unique mission of each of its churches, but the Presbytery also has missions. They are missions that congregations share and do together. They are mission partnerships that touch people in your neighborhood and give hope to people half a world away. When congregations give to Presbytery mission, they are supporting these missions that also are unique and join Presbyterians together in the work of Christ. In the coming weeks, we will share the news of that work with you. For now, celebrate the unique mission of your church, the mission we do, together, in the Presbytery and the unity that is ours in Christ.
